Computer Scientist

Experienced in C++, Java, and Javascript

Education

Santa Monica College

2023-2024

Computer Science BS ~in progress~

While in SMC I learned C++ and many of the more fundamental concepts of computer science. I also took many math classes that helped me understand graph theory and set theory.

California State University Northridge

2025-present

Computer Science BS ~in progress~

I am currently at CSUN and so far have learned Java and Javascript. I have finished the required math classes and have completed a group project where we built a website for an imaginary airline.
